Creators' Corner
Welcome back to the Creator's Corner, where fans like you get to read behind-the-scenes on our Top Cow characters! This week, Tim Hurley offers us insightful details on writing for a book.
My best favorite part of writing is that the book doesn't end... once I have turned pencils and pens, because always by looking at and flipping to certain areas of the book I realize that you have some great thoughts about it done, and then I get it.
